

Interlocking Kitchen Mats

Interlocking Kitchen Mats are snap-together, rubber drainage tiles designed for use in restaurants as well as commercial kitchens. These nitrile rubber kitchen mats can be linked together like puzzle pieces, to cover virtually any area, especially oversized and non-rectangular layouts.

Each 3' x 3' or 3' x 5' tile is 3/4" thick and designed to provide comfort for those standing all day as well as increased traction on wet, slippery floors.

The drainage holes in these modular kitchen tiles allow food and liquids to fall through, helping the top surface remain clean and maintain traction.

Black kitchen mat tiles are grease resistant and come with a 1 year warranty while the red kitchen mat tiles are grease proof and have a 3 year warranty.

Beveled edging is available in several colors to provide a smoother transition from floor to floor mat tile for both people and rolling carts.
